I imagine a sort of parade that winds around the building, made up of kids, families and pets doing different activities at super-size. This would be a combination of activities that happen at the park (soccer, birthday parties, biking, baseball, etc.) along with more fun surprises, like people in costumes, circus acts, and non-traditional pets like Llamas. This design would be a sort of combination of the two designs included at top -- the "Bikes" Spread and the "Everybody Reads" Mural. (I don't provide designs without being paid, but I think you can tell my general style through the finished work.)

Fun and imagination.

In keeping with the theme of fun, I've create an illustrated wall mural that embraces fun bright colors, silly characters, mythical creatures, landscapes, cityscapes, and spacescapes filled with imagination. There is also a fun "Seek & Find" activity on the back of the building that encourages people to explore the many details of the mural art.

Mockup

Seek & Find challenge box that encourages people to explore the artwork.
